SILVER PL

ARTICLES OF
Brass, Copper, German-silver AND FOR CLEANING AND POLISHING SILVER

Although an entirely new invention, it has already excited the surprise and admiration of many of the prominent chemists and metallurgists. It is pronounced, by all who have seen it, to be the most important operation, one of the most valuable in the art of electroplating.

It is a complete electro silver-plating bottle, and is destined to work with the same result as the silver-plating bottle, but the silver-plating is worn off, can be restored to its original brilliancy, and articles of Brass, Copper, Gold, and Silver can be electroplated with it, at a cost so trifling no fair estimate can be made.

There are thousands of articles in the above metals, which by an occasional use of this bottle may be made highly ornamental and useful.

It is perhaps needless that the Silver-plating is a preparation of Pure Silver, and is not mixed with other metals, or other alloys, and is of the purest property in the slightest degree, injurious to the health.

This improvement in the art of slush has been secured by Lettice Mendenhall of the New Bedford Copper Company.
 The composition of this metal is exactly that of the yellow Mendenhall metal, once being in the surface finish it is this very important and will add wear of the metal.
 The Bronze Metal is sold at the same
